

THIS WEEK AT ASBURY SEMINARY

Kentucky Campus

January 7-13, 2008

THIS WEEK IN WORSHIP

Wednesday, Jan. 9 - Dr. Ben Witherington III

Dr. Witherington joined the Asbury Seminary faculty in 1995 after teaching at Ashland Theological Seminary for more than a decade. He has also taught at High Point College, Duke Divinity School and Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary. A prolific author, Dr. Witherington has written more than 30 books and six commentaries, including The Gospel Code: Novel Claims About Jesus, Mary Magdalene and Da Vinci (2004), The Problem With Evangelical Theory: Testing the Exegetical Foundations of Calvinism, Dispensationalism, and Wesleyanism (2005), and The New Testament Story (2004). In his leisure time, Dr. Witherington appreciates both music and sports. It is hard to say which sound he prefers: the sophisticated sonance of jazz sensation Pat Metheny or the incessant tomahawk chant of the Atlanta Braves faithful. A graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill, he is a dedicated Tar Heels basketball and football fan. He and his wife, Ann, have two children: Christy Ann and David Benjamin. Ann teaches biology at Asbury College.

*Chapel is held from 11:30 to noon in Estes Chapel during January.

Phonathon 2008: It's here! Students will be meeting throughout the month of January in Royal Auditorium to call ATS alumni for the purposes of prayer ministry and fundraising. Please include our callers, our alumni, and the seminary in your prayers. Also, if you would be interested in calling, we could still use help. The pay rate is $6.50/hr. and schedules are very flexible. Spouses are welcome, too. If you are interested, please contact Laura Hill via FirstClass.

FEATURES

Dear Robbie,

I have noticed in my walkings across campus that when it rains a bizillion little worms come out on the sidewalk and I was wondering if you know where they are going?

*Thanks,
Wormwatcher*
