The concern for campus security and drug abuse is nationwide. As a part of the Federal Government's effort we are complying with the Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Acts by providing this document for your information and use.

Other resources are available in our library as well as several community agencies that are very active in this effort. If you desire further information please contact the office of Community Life on the Asbury Kentucky campus.

Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act

When a crime has occurred, the Wilmore Police Department should be notified at 911. Students, staff and faculty should report any criminal action or emergency to the seminary switchboard. Included in the report should be the place, time, persons involved, and the type of action observed. Students residing in residence halls should report the information to the Resident Advisor (RA).

Entrances to all campus buildings are locked after the conclusion of classes and other events. Single student residence halls' doors are locked at 11 p.m. Residents can enter the building with their personal key after 11 p.m. A security person will make rounds of the academic and administration buildings during the evening hours.

An on-call maintenance representative is available to respond to any maintenance emergency. The representative is able to enter any building for which an emergency need is evident. The main seminary line 859.858.3581 is the proper number to call.

Campus security people are under the supervision of Mr. Dexter W. Porter, Director of Administration -Physical Plant. Security personnel are responsible for locking buildings and reporting security and emergency situations. They do not have authority to arrest individuals, but do have permission to call for local or state police personnel when needed.

Periodically a publication is distributed which outlines procedures and policies for campus and personal security. Also campus security such as lighting and signage receive special attention from security personnel and the maintenance department.

Information pertaining to the prevention of personal and campus crime is available upon request from the Office of Community Life - Student Services. The following statistics collected for September 2002 to August 2009 (as required by the Campus Safety and Security Act) are listed for the seminary community's information:

Asbury Theological Seminary has a cooperative relationship with the Wilmore Police Department to monitor any criminal activity engaged in by students living in off-campus seminary owned housing.

Drug-free Schools and Communities Act

Standards of Conduct

The seminary's standard of conduct prohibits the unlawful possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on seminary property or as part of any of its activities. Students should refer to the most recent version of Student Guidebook on oneATS for a complete statement of conduct standards.

Legal Sanctions

The following paragraphs describe the local, state, or federal legal sanctions for the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol:

Kentucky Revised Statutes 218A describes the legal consequences for the individual who unlawfully and knowingly traffics, sells, manufactures, possesses, plants, cultivates, or harvests any controlled substance or illegal drug.

Kentucky Revised Statutes 242.230 describes the legal consequences for the individual who unlawfully possesses any alcoholic beverage.

A brief description of Federal laws pertaining to this act is available upon request in the Office of Community Life - Student Services.

Health Risks

The health risk associated with the misuse and abuse of illicit drugs and alcohol include but are not limited to: physical and psychological dependence; damage to the brain, pancreas, kidneys and lungs: high blood pressure, heart attacks and strokes; ulcers; birth defects; a diminished immune system; and death.

Educational Program

The individual who chooses to use illicit drugs or alcohol has made a conscious choice to jeopardize the well being of their own life as well as the lives of others in the community. Therefore, Asbury Theological Seminary provides the following opportunities for each student to address the issue:

1. Each student will have available a copy of the Student Guidebook on oneATS. The handbook provides the following response to serious violations: "In the case of serious problems involving a student's personality or character, he/she may be required to postpone studies for a period of time in order to deal with problems. In severe cases a student may be dismissed from the seminary."
2. Any student, who voluntarily approaches the counseling center and seeks counseling for involvement with illicit drugs and alcohol, will receive confidential counseling. This could result in more extensive counseling or other professional treatment as determined by the counselor.
3. The issues regarding the involvement with illicit drugs and alcohol will be explored by the distribution of appropriate materials and information seminars throughout the year as needed. Faculty and staff should refer to the appropriate manuals for policy under which they were hired.

Penalties for Violations of Policy

As described above, any student who sells, purchases, produces, possesses or consumes alcoholic beverages or an illegal drug is subject to disciplinary action. If a person is suspended, specific rehabilitative guidelines for re-admission will be given to the student and appropriate follow-up will determine when the student will be allowed to return.

Policies & Guidelines for Sexual Harassment (including assault)

More information is available in the Student Guidebook on oneATS.
